Karma Wins Four Winds '01:
The USA Supreme Adventure Race/Idaho
*The longest running and only 7-8 day expedition level Adventure
Race in the US*

Driggs, Idaho — Returning to Driggs after seven days of traversing the Big Holes, Caribou and Snake River mountain ranges in Southeastern Idaho, team Karma (captain Joann Grether, Rich Bartlett, Brien Crothers, Nelson Snyder) crossed the finish line first to win Four Winds '01: The USA Supreme Adventure Race/Idaho.

Coming in behind them to capture second and third respectively were Outdoor Extreme (captain Jason Bagby, Carla Conti Bender, Kirk Burgess, Duane McDowell) and Dark Dog (captain Ruben Manduré, Carlos Marasco).

The longest-running expedition-level race in North America, the multisport competition covered more than 375 miles that took teams seven to nine days to finish. Against the spectacular backdrop of the Grand Tetons and Targhee National Forest, mixed- and same-gender teams of four and two put their physical and mental endurance abilities to the test as they mountain biked, treked, flat and white water paddled, horseback road, navigated, rappelled and ascended through a grueling secret course.

Four Winds will cap off the 2001 season with Mountain Rage/Lake Mead Nov. 3-4. For additional information, call (800) 775-7671; fax, 888-884-7671; e-mail, info@4windsadventure.com; or mail, 2675 West Highway 89A, Suite 451, Sedona, AZ, USA, 86336.
